

Most teens need 8 to 10 hours of regular sleep to stay healthy and alert during the day. But few teens get this regular sleep due to early classes, homework, extra-curricular activities, part-time jobs, social demands, and time in front of electronic devices with screens.