

structured questionnaire survey will gather quantitative data from architects, engineers, policymakers, and construction professionals.