Social law rules are considered mixed: because they combine legal and customary characteristics and affect multiple areas of social life.

Summarized by © lakhasly.com