Liberal capitalist thought is an economic model that believes in freedom and competition as engines of economic and social progress.

Summarized by © lakhasly.com