

Zohra Drif, the legendary freedom fighter, was born on a farm in Tiaret. She was at 19 when the Algerian Revolution broke out. Two years later, she was studying law at Algiers University when she joined a group of the (FLN) revolutionaries and placed a bomb in the French Milk Bar cafe.