

Influential people have a major role in people's lives, either through negative or positive influence. These people use social media, and people may be influenced by them.