

As we mentioned earlier, agricultural wealth is important to us, as it is considered a basic source of food, providing job opportunities for the unemployed, and its presence in the environment surrounding humans that helps reduce pollution in the air.