Without well developed transportation systems, logistics could not bring its advantages into full play.Besides, a good transport system in logistics activities could provide better logistics efficiency, reduce operation cost, and promote service quality.

Summarized by © lakhasly.com