

This paper presents initial evidence on different interventions to address this need, and to inform care workforce recruitment and retention.