

Enforcement: Rigorously enforcing laws prohibiting tobacco sales to youth and limiting exposure to secondhand smoke is an essential element of creating an environment conducive to reducing tobacco use. These enforcement efforts should include penalties for violators, and compliance enhancing education.