In my opinion,universities should teach creative thing .There are many benefits to do that .First, it helps student to have a unique idea.Many universities have won international awards for their students.For example, King Faisal University Students Make a Positive Impact as They Receive International Award.Many student become creative after that.For example, Los Angeles University teach student creative ideas.