

Raz provides its services in the field of digital maps of cities and administrative areas of all its purposes and seeks to be in constant development by using the latest information systems by acquiring the latest devices in (architectural works – designing sewage works – road works – cadastral works).