

oumaima: Hey malak, I think we should start dividing up responsibilities for our project.oumaima: on the same wavelength So our final list is: research, design a presentation, practice the presentation, and create handouts.So, to recap: I'll do the research, you'll design the presentation, I'll practice with you, and you'll do the printouts.*malak: Maybe we should also include creating handouts for the class?oumaima: I can handle designing the presentation.it's my cup of tea I have some ideas on how to make it visually appealing.This lets us practice the presentation and the printouts.oumaima: I think it would be better if we practiced together.malak: on the same wavelength!Let's set some deadlines for each task as well, so we can stay on track.Let's aim to finish the research by Friday, and we can design the presentation over the weekend.malak: I'm sure we can work this out.
