

bullying is a form of violence committed by a child against another child or disturbing him in a deliberate and repeated manner.