

Always choose a supplement tailored to the age group or condition, as fish liver oil , supplements often contain vitamin A, too much of which can cause liver and bone problems, especially in very young children, and the elderly