

Technology plays an important role in our lives and helps in accomplishing most of the work. Technology is a Greek word and it consists of two syllables. The first techno means art or skill or industry, and the second is logistic and it means science or study and thus technology means performance science or application science or skill science. In the past, business was accomplished slowly and in rudimentary ways and depending on human hands until technology was known and developed to facilitate and accomplish tasks and tasks quickly and accurately, technology has evolved in knowledge and science to contribute to access to information to facilitate human life by supplying and providing factories and companies with modern machinery and equipment to provide goods Services and increase production. Technology is a way of thinking and problem solving, and it is the way of thinking that brings the individual to the desired results, and the limited concept of it is the computer and modern devices, but they are the result of the development of technology, technology is the optimal use of scientific knowledge and its applications and development to serve the human being and his well-being. The development of administrative information systems science that specializes in setting plans for production and management, and the exploitation of information technology means to ensure that all tasks in the field of information are accomplished, processed, and managed, as well as the development of technology in all areas such as the field of medicine has contributed to alleviating patient pain by using modern technologies to quickly discover Diseases and their treatment.