

Case Summary – Court of Cassation, Criminal Case No. 104/2016 Case Citation Qatar Court of Cassation, 104/2016 (19 Dec. 2016). He then had non-consensual intercourse with her. Rule According to Article 300 of the Qatari Penal Code, if the heirs of the victim pardon retaliation or accept blood money, the death penalty must be replaced by imprisonment not exceeding fifteen years ?. Issue Whether the lower court made an error in applying the law by sentencing the accused to life imprisonment despite the victim's heirs pardoning retaliation (qisas) ?. Analysis The Court of Cassation explained that intent to kill can be inferred from circumstances, and in this case the confession, forensic evidence, and witness statements proved the crime. Procedural Facts The Criminal Court sentenced the accused to life imprisonment, confiscation of the weapon, and deportation. Since the heirs pardoned, life imprisonment was unlawful. ?Holding Yes.