

The Higher Diploma in English Language program is a program full of experiences. Also, the subject of classroom interaction, the subject of measurement, the education system, and the subject of guidance and counseling must intensify the practical application in these subjects in order to make it easier for teachers to deal with them in the future. There are many proposals that must be developed, namely unifying subjects and classes between weekday and weekend students. We studied curricula and teaching, where they taught us how to design and write a study plan, but they did not intensify the lesson much or implement it. They had to apply writing a study plan in different lessons so that the student in the future, during teaching, could write an integrated plan. In the educational psychology subject, we studied the different situations of students that we encounter during teaching and how these situations should be dealt with, but while teaching this subject they must apply it practically to a specific situation in order to make it easier for them to deal with it in the future.
