

Constitutionalists focused on basic principles of legal security country that does practise morality and justice as a tool of expanding its authority on investment law<sup>22-18</sup> of business including the laws of governing the property portfolio investments for the granting of concession of investment-oriented properties. Under the latter amendment, the legislature was subject to the new practice No.23<sup>17</sup> under which the economic property was classified and the authority of the Algerian agency for the promotion of investment with concessive given contracts No 08<sup>04</sup> that may affect the legal status of the investor on one hand, and the investment climate on the other hand.