

Increased user bandwidth demands (over 10x), driven by VoD, HDTV, internet, and business applications, necessitate high-speed network architectures. Wireless networks like IEEE 802.11n require EPON backhaul for 100 Mbps or higher per access point, highlighting the need for solutions like TOM, WOM, and TOM over WOM.