

The ASLO–Latex Test showed a negative result, suggesting that the anti–streptolysin O antibody level in the tested serum was below the detection limit of the test. This indicates the absence of a recent significant streptococcal infection detectable by this method at the time of testing.