Father: Rainforests are characterized by their humid, warm climate and biological diversity, so that three or more species of the same plant can exist in them.

Summarized by © lakhasly.com