

Hypertension Hypertension is next in importance to dyslipidemia as a risk factor for atherosclerosis, and mitochondrial dysfunction has been implicated in increased arterial blood pressure.