

The text addresses the value of services provided to customers by providing access to a variety of books and educational materials in areas that lack library infrastructure. Meeting customer needs is to provide accessible educational and literacy resources at affordable prices and flexibility. It also contributes to promoting a love of reading and teaching in disadvantaged communities.