

Angelina and Brad have been restricted in fights in court for almost six years, since she stood out as truly newsworthy by seeking legal separation in September 2016. Right off the bat in the separation, the FBI investigated claims that Brad became 'physical' with Maddox on a confidential plane – yet the examination was shut without any charges documented.