

It was a morning I was sitting in my kitchen anyway I was trying to open a can of condensed milk instead of using a can opener. Fortunately, I didn't bleed much. I had to insert my finger to lift the top, but I hurt my finger. When I opened the box I used a knife. The cracked part became sharp.