

The anterior cruciate ligament (ACL) is one of 2 cruciate ligaments that aids in stabilizing the knee joint. It has two bundles; an isometric anteromedial and a posterolateral bundle with more versatile. The ACL measures 32 mm long and is 7 to 12 mm wide.