: Bamboo typically thrives in warm tropical climates.Bamboo is utilized in various proportions for producing printing and writing paper, Bristol board, duplex and triplex paper, as well as linerboard.Fiber length in bamboo varies not only between species but also within individual plants, depending on the section of the stem or inter-nodal length.As one of the fastest-growing plants suitable for pulp production, bamboo stands out for its rapid growth rates.

Summarized by © lakhasly.com