

The project manager, along with the follow-up employees and coordinators, will be responsible for ensuring the effective implementation of the project plan.