

3. Benefits of plants: plants are of great significance in our lives and in the environment: > Ecological and environmental interest: Plants enable the production of oxygen and absorption of CO₂ through photosynthesis (they are considered the lungs of the earth).