

A library is a place where books and sources of information are stored. Students from various colleges, as well as professors, visit it to obtain information. It contains many sources, books, and CDs. They make it easier for people to get access to them for various purposes.