

A suitable choice for qualified people with knowledge, religion and morals, who are able to communicate the message of Islam correctly Activating advocacy activities through religious lectures and legal lessons, distributing Islamic books and publications, and organizing seminars and conferences.