

A c u t e wound healing is the normal orderly process that occurs after injury and often requires minimal practitioner intervention.