

Before the Corona strike on the Sultanate of Oman and other countries, the economy in it had been high, and there was competition between the companies of the countries, but with the coming of Corona, things began to change little by little, as small and medium enterprises are affected significantly since the emergence of Covid 19.