

In January 2005, Hurley and Chen attended a friend's dinner party in San Francisco. Using the money they had received from the PayPal buyout, Chen and Hurley decided to create YouTube / to make uploading and sharing videos online as easy as anyone could want. It was the birth of a revolution