

Your journey as an investor and company: Kfir Kachlon is an Early Stage Angel Investor focused on supporting brilliant teams who are building amazing, and industry defining, tech startups. Previously Kfir founded AnD Ventures, an early-stage VC, focused on the Israeli startup ecosystem. Kfir led the fund's investments thesis and capital deployment. Prior to founding AnD Ventures, Kfir was a senior member of OurCrowd's investments team and the FrontierTech and AgriFood technologies lead at OurCrowd, where he led dozens of investments in cutting edge technologies. Previously, Kfir practiced Technology Law, focused on IP, M&As, and contracts for advanced technological projects and startups. Kfir earned his LL.M in International Commercial Law in 2015 from the Tel Aviv University in collaboration with UC Berkeley (Magna Cum Laude). Kfir was admitted into the Israel Bar Association in 2011. As an entrepreneur, Kfir founded L'etape Cycling Apparel, a consumer product company that designs, manufactures, and sells high quality and performance limited edition cycling apparel to the road cycling niche market. Kfir is passionate about travel, cycling, sneakers, working closely with exceptional entrepreneurs, and enjoys taking active part in enabling the creation and development of rocket ships.

What are your expectations/targets/goals to achieve as part of the Hosted Investor Programme? Looking forward to meeting, and networking, with bright entrepreneurs, visionaries, and fellow VCs from the UAE and all over the MENA region. I would love to leave the programme with unique deal flow and investment opportunities. Furthermore, I would love to broaden, and strengthen, my professional network following the programme with strong new relationships with fellow investors.
