Three years ago, I faced a difficult situation that was related to my future.But my preparation for the exams was interrupted because I was transferred to the hospital during the preparation period.I was preparing to begin my final exams for high school.