

As the Resident Engineer on a complex project like this, continuous self-assessment is crucial.–
Suggestion: Implement more robust delegation strategies, clearly defining roles and responsibilities. Provide more regular feedback and coaching to team members, fostering their growth and confidence in taking ownership of tasks. Regularly review my own workload to identify tasks that can be effectively delegated.