

Technology has greatly influenced human life. One of the most affected aspects is communication and social interaction. Some people believe that devices change people's behavior so I disagree