

Thirdly, solution is to prevent burning wastes near the residential area. According to Yejide (2018), the plugged drains and flood danger was a serious environmental problem resulting from solid waste elimination practices. Hence, preventing burning waste near the residential areas would be beneficial and it could prevent people from getting some diseases.