

The house we live in is for us the best house in the world, because we spend the best years of our lives in it. And because we live in it with our parents and make a large number of memories with them. But as for the future home, each of us has an imaginary home in his head, but he does not have to live in it in the future. In the end, only God Almighty knows the future.