He raced up one mountain and down another, but couldn't throw Bill off his back. Finally, he stopped bucking and became as tame as a puppy dog. He became Bill's favorite horse.