

The caste system is based on ascribed status at birth, allowing little social mobility. The three main classes are: