

Female conversation typically focuses on building relationships, expressing feelings, and strengthening social bonds.