In conclusion, using mobile phones can have negative effects, such as irregular sleep patterns and impaired thinking. Although these phones can have negative effects, they may lead to an inability to sleep or an incapacity to think clear. Phones should be used for beneficial purposes, not to destroy person.

Summarized by © lakhasly.com