

We have achieved some important results; however, we believe that what has been achieved through this field research is a point in the sea of expected results through further research and investigation in insurance.