

?Having friends from many countries is something makes the person knowing many things.However, I have a Yemeni and a Belgians friends. ?To start with, the Yemeni friend has his traditional way of communicating with others.He prefers to communicate with his friends and family members by talking to them face-to-face rather than ?culture.They have different ways of communication.The culture of those friends would sometimes shock.