

In this poem, Plath uses a mirror to explore the impact of time, age, and the waste of time. She cannot help but change herself about features older, grow individuals As youth..