

It takes a lot of thermal energy for water's temperature to change.