Now, intersect this column with row for your degrees of freedom. The number you see is critical value of t for confidence interval.